- Information is based on the relative fair value of the underlying portfolio holdings.
- London Interbank Offered Rate, or LIBOR, is an interest rate at which banks can borrow funds, in marketable size, from other banks in the London interbank market. Euro Interbank Offered Rate, or EURIBOR, is an interest rate at which banks can borrow funds, in marketable size, from other banks in the European interbank market. Residual cash flow is excess cash flow after payment of any fees/expenses and obligations related to senior notes, including interest and principal repayments.
- Rate is the total interest rate on the loan, often based on LIBOR or EURIBOR, plus a margin, or residual cash flow.
- Debt with a LIBOR or EURIBOR floor pay an interest rate of LIBOR or EURIBOR, plus a margin, so long as LIBOR or EURIBOR remains above the specified floor level. If however, LIBOR or EURIBOR falls below the floor, the interest rate is the floor level plus the applicable margin.

Data excludes short term investments, which represent an investment in a fund that invests in highly liquid investments with average original maturity dates of three months or less. Percentages represent approximate figures.
